YOUR CRUISE

Discover a new PONANT itinerary between Ushuaia, located in the mythical Tierra del Fuego and commonly regarded as the southernmost city in the world, and Cape Town, land of South Africa at the entrance gate of the Cape of Good Hope.

Embark on a 22-day expedition cruise, including the Falkland Islands and the South Georgia, a sub-Antarctic region formed by a chain of underwater mountains. These places of adventures are home to a rich and fascinating wildlife including king penguins, humpback whales, elephant seals, and fur seals.

And for the first time, discover three of the most isolated islands in the world: Tristan da Cunha, a volcanic and mountainous land remarkable for its 2,000 meter peak; Gough Island, home to one of the world's largest seabird colonies and listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site; and Nightingale Island, a refuge for many penguins.

FOCUS ON... TRISTAN DA CUNHA

A small British archipelago discovered in the 16th century by the Portuguese sailor after whom it was named, Tristan da Cunha is made up of several islands scattered off the South-African coast. Most of these are listed as UNESCO World Heritage Sites. During your cruise, you will discover the archipelago's eponymous main island, offering visitors basalt land lulled by the swell, home to the only village in the chain of islands, and topped with a volcano.
