YOUR CRUISE

From Papeete Anakena to Hanga Roa, come onboard Le Soléal for an exceptional cruise in the heart of the Pacific between Chile and Polynesia.

Far from the conventional tourist destinations, the Gambier is one of the best kept secrets and most preserved destinations of the Polynesia: large coral-ringed belt lagoons are adorned with various colours, each more brilliant than the other.

Come unravel the mysteries of Easter Island, famous for its "Moai" monumental megalithic statues of 4 m and its wood chips, the "Rogo-Rongo" signs remain partly covered and indecipherable: a unique world heritage protected by UNESCO since 1995.

FOCUS ON... HANGA ROA, EASTER ISLAND

The main town of legendary Easter Island, Hanga Roa is also its only urban area. Bathed by the Pacific Ocean, this picturesque Chilean town is an excellent base for exploring the island's spectacular treasures, particularly the moai, the famous enigmatic monumental statues. The Polynesian Hanga Roa culture and its traditional houses are a sheer delight. As evening approaches, wend your way to the charming fishing port where, weather permitting, you can admire the captivating light of the setting sun.
