YOUR CRUISE

Through an exceptional itinerary, PONANT invites you to discover an unspoiled America that is extreme by nature and where the past seems to have left a still intact, indelible mark.

From Colón, you will set sail aboard the Le Soléal for a 10-day cruise from the wild islands in the Gulf of Panama to the legendary land of the Incas.

You will begin your cruise with an unforgettable crossing of the famous Panama Canal! This marvel of engineering includes three levels of locks and enables ships to bypass Cape Horn.

On the way to Ecuador, the Le Soléal will stop in the Pearl Islands, which nestle in the Gulf of Panama. In the heart of this paradise, you will discover Mogo Mogo, a secret island with exceptional marine life.

You will then visit Santiago de Guayaquil, 'the pearl of the Pacific'. This surprising city in Ecuador will enable you to reach Quito, a capital listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, or Cuenca, a small city that time forgot, with colonial houses decorated with stucco.

When the ship arrives at Callao, you will be able to visit Peru's main fishing and commercial seaport. From museums to old churches and stately mansions, the city also boasts a unique and rich architecture.
